An Address from Col. Taylor, President of the State Agricultural Society.

To the People of South Carolina: As President of the State Agricultural and Mechanical Society, the undersigned has the honor to acknowledge the receipt of the address of the approaching State Fair, which can be made a brilliant success by the co-operative efforts of the farmers, mechanics and manufacturers who are interested in developing the material interests of the State.

The following detailed account of the surrender of Chief Joseph was received in this city today: PORT BENDON, M. T., October 6, 1877. General Miles, U. S. Army. A courier from General Miles' battlefield arrived one hour ago, bringing intelligence that Chief Joseph with his entire band had surrendered.

The capitulation took place at 2 p. m. on the 5th instant. The Nez Percés gave up the Indian country on the 5th day of the month. General Miles' battlefield arrived one hour ago, bringing intelligence that Chief Joseph with his entire band had surrendered.

With a single exception there are no salaried officers, and all the officers of the Society are devoted to the advancement of agriculture and kindred industries. All classes of the community should feel that it is their duty to contribute to the support and maintenance of the Society.

Life membership can be made to sustain and permanently establish the Society. The people in every county should organize a club of life members, and thus bring to bear an influence which will be felt and diffused throughout the State.

The petrified forest of California. The site of the petrified forest is about one thousand feet above sea level, and lies in the same trend with the geysers, Mount St. Helena and the thermal springs of Calistoga.
